Re: In the Matter of Petition of USTelecom for Forbearance Pursuant to 47 U.S.C. Section 160(c); WC Docket No. 18-141; Category 1

Dear FCC,

I've been in the telecommunications business starting out with a small C-Lec just after the breakup of AT&T in 1984. Thanks to Judge Green and the 1996 Telecommunications Act communication services have thrived while the prices have been driven down serving the public, the users. It wasn't until Judge Green broke up AT&T that service improvements and inventions began to grow exponentially out of competition. My small business as an agent of hundreds of competitive communications services and providers and a consultant to small businesses thrives on choices and that competition.

Thanks to the competition access to broadband is expanding and flourishing. If your goal is to hurt the little guy and spoon feed the few huge communications services corporations, then you are on your way by just considering limiting competition.

Shame on you. It is not broken; leave it alone.
